PREFACE.

NAMES are apellations, which, when applied to persons, are used to designate one family from another, and one individual from another of the same family. Family names are surnames, and are arbitrary; depending upon the sole will and choice of the persons taking them. Hence many persons have relinquished their family or surname, and taken some other; while others for the novelty of it, or from some other cause have changed the orthography of their surnames, whereby the number of names has not only been greatly increased, but a knowledge of the ancestry of some families entirely lost.

While the right of a person to assume a new name is conceded, there is also high authority for saying, that every man has a right to spell his own name as he pleases, but not that of another.

To surnames are prefixed other and various names to designate individuals, the offspring of the same paternity — such are called christian names.

The orthography of both christian and surnames in the following pages will be thought, in some instances by most readers, to be incorrect, and, perhaps in some, known to be so by those to whom they are applied. However that may be, I have followed the orthography, as also the dates without regard to old and new style, as found in public records and in the communications sent me; preferring, in a few instances excepted, where the orthography was manifestly erroneous, to take it as I found it.

An article upon the origin of names, and one upon old and new style may be found at the close of the volume.

EXPLANATIONS.

THE figures in the first left hand column denote the number of each individual in the whole number traced. Those in the second, the number of children in the family. Those in the right hand column that the person against whose name they are placed had or has descendants or is further noticed — such may be found with his or her family by corresponding figures on the left hand against his name or that of her husband in the succeeding generation. Those in brackets following the name of the husband or wife refer to his or her number in the whole number traced and to his or her number in the family to which he or she belonged. Towns, when mentioned are to be understood as in Massachusetts, unless otherwise designated or implied. Places of residence, when known, are also mentioned. It is matter of regret that so many omissions in that particular are found in the documents sent me. A knowledge of one's residence, who had a family, is not only desirable but essentially necessary to aid the enquirer where to look for his descendants or a record of them — without it he is not unlike a ship in the midst of a broad and trackless ocean seeking her destined port without chart or compass.

ABBREVIATIONS.

INTRODUCTION.

A desire to know my ancestors, paternal and maternal, in a continuous line to the period of their first settling in this country, gave rise to this publication.

While accomplishing it, collaterals and their descendants met me on every side, and claimed of me that notice, which had been so long neglected —THAT THE KNOWLEDGE OF THEM MIGHT NOT DIE WITH THEM. That appeal was not made in vain — it has been complied with, and the result is here embodied in a record of the Ward family, not only in discharge of a duty to the DEPARTED, but for the information of their descendants now on the stage, and of those that are yet to come.

It embraces the names of all the descendants of William Ward, so far as they have come to my knowledge from county, town, parish and family records. Further time and researches would no doubt lead to the discovery of others, and to what became of some herein mentioned, of whom but little is known.

The first mention of William Ward, and of his being in America, that I have been able to find, was in 1639. In that year, according to the records of Sudbury, the proprietors of that plantation made three divisions of their lands; the first in 1639, the second and third, in 1640 — it appears of record, that William Ward shared in each of these divisions; then having a second wife and several children. Tradition, transmitted from his early descendants, says he came from Yorkshire or Derbyshire in England. Investigations have recently been made in England to ascertain his paternity, but without any satisfactory result. They are still being made for that purpose, and to learn the names of his wives and births of his children, who came here with him. Yet, as considerable time may elapse before the final result can be obtained, and, when obtained, may not be conclusive, it is deemed not advisable to delay this publication for information from abroad to the disappontment at home, of many of his descendants, who are impatient by reason of their advanced age, to be informed of their ancestry, at least in America, before they go hence.

Information already received, renders it improbable that he came from Yorkshire, although it is quite certain, that his early ancestors were of that place. Seven hundred and ten distinguished persons, each bearing but one name, accompanied William, the Conqueror, from Normandy to the conquest of England in 1066 ; a record of all of whose names is yet preserved. Among the number, was " Ward, one of the noble Captains." This is the earliest period in which the name is found in English history, and the first which appears there with an additional name was William de la Ward, residing in Chester, in 1175.

From 1349, a succession of eleven generations of one family is found there, in each of which, the name of the head of the family was, in the first, Ralph ; in the second, Richard ; in the third, John ; in the fourth, John ; in the fifth, Richard ; in the sixth, William ; in the seventh, Thomas ; in the eighth, Thomas ; in the ninth, John ; in the tenth, Richard ; and in the eleventh, Thomas, who had sons John and William — these were prevailing names in the early families descended from William of Sudbury, and are yet retained to a considerable extent in the families of his descendants to the present time.

The Wards of Yorkshire spread into the adjoining counties of England ; those of Durham, whence it may be, came William Ward, afterwards of Sudbury, were descendants of the Yorkshire Wards — the arms anciently belonging to the family here, were Azure, a cross baton, or Crest, wolfs head erased — and such were those of the Durham Wards.

William Ward was made freeman in 1643 ; represented Sudbury in the General Court in 1644, and was several years Chairman of the selectmen, as he was in 1660, when he removed from that town.

He, with twelve others belonging to Sudbury, petitioned the General Court in 1656 for a new plantation of eight miles square, saying, " Whereas, your petitioners have lived divers years in Sudbury, and God hath been pleased to increase our children, which are now, divers of them, grown to man's estate, and wee many of us grown into years so as that wee should bee glad to see them settled before the Lord take us away from hence, as also God having given us some considerable quantity of cattle, so that wee are so straightened that wee cannot so comfortably subsist as could be desired ; and some of us having taken some pains to view the country, wee have found a place which lieth Westward about eight miles from Sudbury which wee conceive might bee comfortable for our subsistence," &c.

Sudbury then contained less than seventy-five families, and embraced in territory what is now Sudbury and Wayland — one would naturally think they were "straightened" for neighbors, more than for want of room ; and so they found it, even twenty years later, when the town with an increased population was nearly destroyed by the Indians.

Their petition was granted to the extent of "six miles square, or otherwise, in some convenient form equivalent thereto in the place desired" — the plantation was laid out not six miles square, yet, for an "equivalent thereto," it was, to say the least of it, a very liberal admeasurement; embracing in territory most of what is now comprised in the towns of Marlborough, Westborough, Northborough, and Southborough — the names of the three last mentioned towns are significant of their relative location to the towns from which they were set off — Westborough, including what is Northborough, was set off from Marlborough in 1717 — Northborough from Westborough in 1766, and Southborough from Marlborough in 1727. The plantation was incorporated by the name of Marlborough in 1660; in that year William Ward removed there from Sudbury, and was chosen deacon of the church when first organized there — the house lots ranged from fifteen to fifty acres each, and each was entitled to a proportionate share in the after divisions of the common lands — his was a fifty acre lot, situated on the South side of the road and nearly opposite the site of the first Meeting house, which was not far from where the Gates Academy now stands — he built and resided upon it — his lands by after divisions extended Westward to what, in some of his conveyances, he called "Belcher's Pond," near which was erected the public house, long and wide known, as the Williams Tavern, and kept by Abraham Williams, who married the eldest daughter of William Ward, and afterwards by his grand son, Col. Abraham Williams, and subsequently by Silas Gates, who married into that family.

William Ward, in common with others, endured great hardships and sustained great losses by Indian hostilities; more especially in the time of King Phillip's war in 1675–6, when his buildings were fired, his cattle destroyed, and one of his sons slain by the enemy.

He died at Marlborough, Aug. 10, 1687; the record there does not state his age — a knowledge of which would greatly facilitate the discovery of his parentage by identifying him from some others of the name of William, who, as appears by records from England, were born within a few years of each other — his age is supposed to have been eighty five or ninety; probably it was the latter. His Will bears date "the sixth of April, in the year of our Lord Christ, one thousand six hundred and eighty-six;" wherein he says, "enjoying through God's mercy the entireness of my understanding; but by reason of my great age and the infirmaties thereof, being sensible of approaching death, do make this my last will," &c. — appoints his "loving wife, Elizabeth, sole executrix;" gives liberally to her, and requests his "sons, John Ward, Increase Ward, and son-in-law, Abraham Williams, to be helpful to his wife, as occasion may require; — gives "to all my own children, viz. all my sons and daughters, which I have by my former wife, and all that I have surviving by my present wife." He also gave legacies to his grand children and to their mothers, children and widows of his "sons, Richard and Eleazer, deceased." He had fourteen children; and as he gave to all the children by his former wife, and to the surviving by his then wife, it is presumed all of them by the first wife were living at the date of his Will; and that Richard, his fourth child, who died in 1666, at the age of thirty-one years, was by his last wife — hence he must have married a second time, some years before he left England.

His widow, when past her seventy-fourth year, made several journies to Boston, as appears by the Probate records there, before she effected a settlement of his estate with the exorbitant and tyrannical Andros, Governor, Judge of Probate, &c. Considering the distance she resided from Boston, exceeding thirty miles, much of the way a wilderness frequented by lurking savages, a bridle way her road, and on which one of her sons had been a few years before shot down by the enemy at noon day, she must have been a person of great fortitude, and possessed of physical powers in an eminent degree.

She died at Marlborough, where, some years since, her grave stone was standing, on which was an inscription as follows:

"Here lyes the body of Elizabeth Ward, the servant of the Lord — deceased in 87 year of her age, Dec. ye 9, in the year of our Lord 1700."

SECOND GENERATION.

(2) II. JOHN WARD, [2.1] freeman, 1649, proprietor of Sudbury, 1651, m. Hannah, b. Eng., 1631, dau. of Mr. Edward Jackson, of Cambridge, that part now Newton, about 1650, where he settled, and was Selectman nine years, and nine years Representative (not sixteen as said by Farmer) in "The Great and General Court;" he lived in the Southeasterly part of the town — his dwelling house was constructed for, and used as a garrison prior to, and at the time of King Philip's war, 1675–6. In 1701 he disposed of his real estate, lying mostly in one body, by deeds of gift to his sons. The quantity of land to each was about one hundred acres, and in each deed was a clause restricting the grantee from selling without the consent of his brothers, or the major part of them. When any one of them sold, his brothers witnessed the deed, and thereby gave their implied consent to the sale. He made his will, Feb. 2, 1708, and d. at Newton, July 8, 1708, aged 82, and his wife Hannah, April 24, 1704, aged 73. g. stones. They had

28. 13 Joseph, Nov. 9, 1677, m. Esther Kendrick. (24)

(3) II. ABRAHAM WILLIAMS, freeman, 1652, m. Joanna Ward, [3.2] and settled at Marlboro', near "Belcher's Pond"— where has long been a public house, and, many years ago, known as the "William's Tavern"— her father in his will and certain deeds speaks of Abraham Williams as his son-in law, and calls the pond, lying near his house, Belcher's Pond; Abraham Williams represented Marlboro' in the General Court, and d. there Dec. 29, 1712, and his wid., Joanna, Dec. 8, 1718, aged 90. T. Rec. Marlboro' records are very imperfect with respect to their chil. — the names of no other than Lydia and John are found there; and the birth of the latter is not on record. They had at least four chil., viz:

29. 1 Elizabeth, who m. Thomas Beman before 1679, and resided at Marlboro'.
30. 2 William, who m. Elizabeth before 1692, and d. at Marlboro', Aug. 30, 1702, leaving an only son, Abraham, b. 1695, m. Prudence How in 1715, and Elizabeth Breck in 1729. His 3d wife was Elizabeth; she d. at Marlboro' in 1775. He attained to the rank of Colonel; and in 1755 commanded the 3d Regiment of Militia in the counties of Middlesex and Worcester. He d. at Marlboro', July 10, 1781, aged 86.
31. 3 Lydia, 1669.
32. 4 John. The first and last of the above named chil.

were living, Dec. 18, 1711, as appears by their father's deed of gift, recorded with Middlesex deeds, at Cambridge. Abraham Williams disposed of his estate by deed of gift, dated Dec. 28, 1712, — recorded with Middlesex deeds, Book 16, page 82, from which the following are extracts:

To all people &c: — Know ye that I, Abraham Williams, sen. of the town of Marlboro' &c., being stricken in years, and not knowing how soon my Lord will call, upon good considerations me moving, do give and grant as followeth: after my decease and the decease of my beloved consort, Joanna Williams, there shall be paid out of my estate, to my daughter, Elizabeth Beman, besides what she hath already had, three score pounds in New England money — unclipt money — it shall be for her and her children forever; also I give to her and hers half my stock that shall then be found, except one yoak of oxen and feeding cattle, and one horse. The one-half of all the rest shall be theirs free forever. I also give to my daughter, Elizabeth Beman, and to hers half of my household goods, and to my son-in-law, Thomas Beman, thirty pounds passable money, and forty acres of land I bought of my brother, John Ward, [he was of Newton] and twenty six acres that lies adjoining it — in all three score and six acres: it shall be his forever after our decease, to stand good in fee simple. And because God hath taken away my eldest son and proper heir, and who never had any possession of my housing or lands, but as we traded together with corn and cattle, and so he had his part of all our income, and having left with me one only son, I reckon him my proper heir in his father's room; and accordingly do give and grant to him, as first born, viz: Abraham Williams, together with his uncle, John Williams, all the rest of my estate undisposed of, viz: all my housing, with the land they stand upon and is about them on every side bounded and fenced, and all my lands and meadows abroad; all my husbandry furniture, carpentering tools, and the rest of my stock — they shall be Abraham Williams his and John Williams his together, not to be parted, but improved for their subsistence together, unless extremity enforces a sale of a small piece thereof — all these gifts and grants shall be to them and their heirs forever. And further, concerning William Ripley, whom we have brought up from a child; his time is not long to stay on strict terms—then nine pounds will be due him, one he hath had already—let his due be paid out of the whole estate—if he will stay with Abraham and John for reasonable wages by the year, three or four years, then I give to him, for his own forever, to settle on, twenty acres of land at Rock patch, with the meadow to it, next to my son Beman's. If he like not that, he shall have twenty acres at the west end of Crane hill, and three acres of meadow at Cedar meadow above the Island next to Barns. And if not that, he must go.

I desire and pray, my three beloved friends, my son-in-law, Thomas Beman, my brother, Samuel Ward, and my cousin, Joseph Stratton, to be overseers and feofees in trust, to see to the fulfilling of these gifts and improvement of the other according to the premises for my wife, John and Abraham. And when God shall take either of us away, to allow a decent and Christian burial, without weeds or flourishes, for our fathers and mothers had none.

Signed with my own hand and sealed with my own seal, &c. Dec. 18, 1711.

(4) II. "OBADIAH WARD, [4.3] and Mary his wife, were m., Nov. 13, 1669;" so is the record. In the early settlement of the country, the like record of marriages was not uncommon, whereby the family name of the wife is not only withheld, but the record so made as to imply a wife before marriage. Their marriage took place probably in 1667, instead of '69. He had lands assigned him in Sudbury, in 1653, and a house lot of twenty-one acres, with after divisions in Marlboro' in 1660, and moved there soon after; where his wife Mary d., Aug. 22, 1706. He next m., when past the age of 74, Joanna, b. Dec. 14, ~~1666,~~ dau. of Isaac Mixer, of Watertown, who survived him. He was Rep. from Marlboro', in 1689, and d. there, Jan. 5, 1718, aged 86. 34. 2 William, Jan. 7, 1670, m. Judith. (25)

His wid., Mary, m. Daniel ~~How~~, and was living at Sudbury in 1686. The chil. of Richard and Mary were

46. 1 Obadiah, b. Dec. 10, 1663, m. Joanna Harrington. (28)
47. 2 Lydia, March 16, 1664–5, m. John Maynard. (29)

He removed to Marlboro', and d. there, Jan. 30, 1695, and his wid., Hannah, Nov. 3, 1717, aged 78. In her will, dated June 1, 1716, she names six daughters and a son Daniel, to all of whom she gave legacies. Their chil. were

He was a Magistrate in early life, and much employed in public business; he petitioned the Gen. Court for a grant of land, for losses in the Narraganset war, sustained by the father of his wife, and eventually became possessed of one thousand acres of land in Charlemont, originally granted to the town of Boston; his children inherited it, and in that town and vicinity, his descendants remain and are numerous.

He followed the seas in early life, and in several voyages was master of a vessel; but a spiritual change coming over him, as he said, induced him to relinquish that mode of life, and go into trade in Boston, where it is supposed his eldest son was b., and whose birth is found only on Shrewsbury records with those of his other chil. It will be seen, that according to the records, that son was b. more than a year before the parents' marriage. The early age at which the son was married leads to the presumption that he was b. as early as recorded, and that the error, if any, is in the record of the year of his parents' marriage. The father was of Marl., 1716, where the birth of the second son is recorded, and soon after of Shrewsbury, where is the only record of his other chil. He was a proprietor of Shrews., one of its first settlers, and one of the founders of the chh. in that town. He was the first, and for seven years, the Rep. from S. in the Gen. Court. In the history of Rehoboth, by Leonard Bliss, jr., it is said, "The Rev. Thomas Greenwood d. Sept. 8, 1720, at half-past two, P. M., aged 50 years. He was a native of Weymouth, Mass., where his father, of whose Christian name I am ignorant, died, according to minutes made by Rev. Thomas Greenwood, Sept. 1, 1693, in the evening." This account agrees with the time of the death of Thomas Greenwood, of Newton, as inscribed on his grave-stone, still standing in the ancient burying-ground in Newton. The town records of Weymouth do not contain the name of any one of his family, nor is his name found there. Yet, his son, Thomas, may have been b. there. The birth of Thomas, son of Thomas and Hannah Greenwood, is found in Middlesex records, Jan. 27, 1673 — the figure 3 having been substituted for some other one erased. Thomas, father of Rev. Thomas Greenwood, was Selectman in Newton, (then Cambridge,) 1686-7-90, and d. in that office, Sept. 1, 1693. The Rev. Thomas would have been almost 50 when he d., if b. He was of Pomfret, Ct., in 1734, and in that year purchased lands in Ashford, in the deed of which he is called of Pomfret. In 1738 he purchased lands in Ashford, of Thomas Hill, of Boston, and mortgaged the same to Hill. He was living in 1761, and conveyed lands there, other than what he had of Hill, to Jabez Ward. He probably had deceased before 1770; as in that year, Hill quitted to Daniel and Jabez Ward, and the rest of the heirs of the said Thomas; and in 1771, Daniel and Jabez quitted their right and title to the same lands, mortgaged by Thomas Ward to Hill, and say, that they, the said Daniel and Jabez, are the lawful heirs to the same ; by another deed, Silas Chapin and his wife, Anna, and James Eaton, all of Springfield, quitted their right to the same land, and to the same pe son. They were probably "the rest of the heirs." Daniel and Jabez purchased lands in Ashford, 1754. Daniel was of Glastenbury, Ct., 1771, and sold out at Ashford, 1780. Jabez was of Ashford until 1784, when he sold out and moved away. Daniel and Jabez were the sons, and probably Anna Chapin, a dau. of Thomas Ward.

It is worthy of notice that five of the above named chil. d. within thirty-six days of each other, and four of them at an age that could not but have added to the overwhelming grief of the parents, and may well be supposed to have broken a mother's heart.

(62) IV. WILLIAM WARD, [151.1] m. Rachel —— and resided at Union, Ct.; of which he was a very prominent man, as appears by the records of that town. He was a large land holder and owned several farms there; at a corner of one of them, there was, and yet remains, a large rock, on which are cut in large capitals the letters W.W., but whether by him, or his father William, is unknown — tradition there is that it was marked by William Ward. It is known by the name of rock W. to this day. His will, dated Aug. 12, 1772, was approved Oct. 2, 1780; he d. in the summer of that year, aged 89. His children were,

Ruth, dau. of Josiah Ward of Enfield "; meaning undoubtedly, Enfield, Ct.; that Ruth was the dau. of Josiah, is thought to be a mistake; as neither the records of Enfield, nor of Somers, Ct., of which Enfield was once a part, contain any evidence of a Josiah Ward having ever resided in either town, or that any other Ward there, save Gamaliel, had had a daughter by the name of Ruth.

no instance is the name of his wife mentioned; no record is found of the death of his first wife, or of his marriage with the second — consequently the children by the second wife cannot be distinguished from those of the first. The father of his second wife, in his will 1749, names his dau., Mary, wife of Thomas Drury of Grafton.

(82) IV. Gen. ARTEMAS WARD, [217.6] H. U. 1748, m. Sarah Trowbridge July 31, 1750; b. 1724; dau. of Rev. Caleb Trowbridge of Groton, b. 1692, H. U. 1710, ord. Groton, 1715; and d. 1760; son of Dea. James of Newton, b. 1636; son of Thomas, of Dorchester, whose name in the records of D. is written Strobridge. The mother of Sarah Trowbridge was Hannah, dau. of Rev. Nehemiah Walter, of Roxbury; her mother, Sarah, was dau. of Rev. Increase Mather, D.D., of Boston; and her mother, Maria, was the dau. of Rev. John Cotton, the distinguished Pastor of the First chh. in Boston; who was b. 1585, came to Boston 1633, son of Roland Cotton, and d. in 1652.

Artemas Ward resided at Shrewsbury, but did not study a profession. At the age of 25 years, he was commissioned a Justice of the Peace; in 1755, a Major in the 3d Regiment of Militia in the counties of Middlesex and Worcester, whereof Abraham Williams, Esquire, of Marlboro', was Col.; and, in 1758, was Major in the Regt. of foot commanded by William Williams, raised for a general invasion of Canada. He went out on that ill-fated expedition under the command of Gen. Abercrombie, from which he returned with the rank of Lt. Col. The frequent wars between England and France involved the American Colonies in the contests of the mother country until the conquest of Canada in 1760. Our northern frontier was long the principal battle-ground, where the Provincials, coöperating with regular and well disciplined troops under the command of experienced officers, were at school in learning the art of war, and therein made such proficiency, that in a short time they coped with their teachers, and, possessing an unconquerable spirit and love of liberty, turned them out of the school-house and retained possession for themselves and their posterity — forever may they keep it!

Artemas Ward succeeded Abraham Williams in the command of the 3d Regiment, and represented his native town in the Gen. Court; where he took an active part in the controversies between the Colonial Governors and the House of Reps. that preceded the Revolution.

Fearless in speech and resolute in manner, he boldly denounced such Parliamentary measures as encroached on the rights of the Colonies, and which the Governors, if they did not recommend, at least sought to enforce in offensive language and by arbitrary means. The country was roused, and militia trainings became frequent; some of whose officers gave political as well as military instruction to the troops under their command; such was Col. Ward's practice, which occasioned the following letter: —

BOSTON, June 30, 1766.

To Artemas Ward, Esquire. Sir: I am ordered by the Governor to signify to you, that he has thought fit to supersede your commission of Col. in the Regt. of Militia lying in part in the County of Worcester, and partly in the County of Middlesex. And your said commission is superseded accordingly.

I am, sir, your most obt. and humble servt.,

JOHN COTTON, Dep'ty Sec'y.

The foregoing letter was forwarded by Express, and the messenger, as directed, delivered it himself to Col. Ward, and then waited until he had opened and read it, as if to ascertain and report how it was received. As the messenger was in full military costume and mounted on a foaming steed, he attracted the attention of many citizens, who were present, and who enquired of Col. Ward, if he had important news — whereupon he read the letter aloud, and then, turning to the messenger, said, give my compliments to the Governor, and say to him, I consider myself twice honored, but more in being superseded, than in having been commissioned, and that I thank him for this, holding up the letter, since the motive that dictated it is evidence, that I am, what he is not, a friend to my country.

In losing the confidence of the Governor he shared more largely in that of the public. In 1768, the House of Reps. being disposed to surround the Governor with a Council composed of men proved and approved for their patriotism and fidelity, elected him as one of the members of that body. The Governor negatived the choice — some others shared the same fate. What a compliment to their integrity and vigilance in defending chartered rights! The people sustained their Representatives, and for so doing, were threatened with subjection by military force. The country was alarmed. Submission or resistance was the only alternative. Conventions were held, and through them the people, as with one voice, proclaimed resistance and their determination to repel force by force; preparations for that purpose commenced; and on the 27th of October, 1774, the Provincial Congress, then sitting at Cambridge, elected Jedediah Preble, Artemas Ward, and Seth Pomroy, General Officers, to take rank in the order above stated. Hostilities commenced at Lexington and Concord on the 19th of April, 1775, and, on the 20th, Gen. Ward was at Cambridge; where on that day he issued several general orders, and appointed Samuel Osgood, Esq., afterwards of Andover, and Joseph Ward, Esq., of Newton, his Aids-de-Camp; the latter also officiated as his Secretary. Mr. Preble did not accept his appointment. It was not until the 19th of May following, that Gen. Ward was appointed Commander-in-chief. On the 20th he received his commission, which was as follows:—

The Congress of the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay.

To the Honourable ARTEMAS WARD, Esquire, Greeting: —

We, reposing especial trust and confidence in your courage and good conduct, do by these presents constitute and appoint you, the said ARTEMAS WARD, to be GENERAL and COMMANDER IN CHIEF of all the forces raised by the Congress aforesaid, for the defence of this and the other American Colonies.

You are therefore carefully and diligently to discharge the duty of a GENERAL in leading, ordering, and exercising the FORCES in Arms, both inferior officers and soldiers, and to keep them in good order and discipline; and they are hereby commanded to obey you as their GENERAL; and you are yourself to observe and follow such orders and instructions as you shall, from time to time, receive from this or any future Congress or House of Representatives of this Colony, or the Committee of Safety, so far as said Committee is impowered by their commission to order and instruct you for the defence of this and the other Colonies, and to demean yourself according to the military rules and discipline established by said Congress in pursuance of the trust reposed in you.

By order of the Congress.

Dated 19th May A. D. 1775.

JOS. WARREN, Pres. P. T.

Middlesex, ss. May 20, 1775.

The Honorable Artemas Ward, Esquire, took the oath appointed by the Congress of the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay to be taken by the General Officers and subscribed the same before me.

SAMUEL DEXTER, Justice of the Peace.

This commission did not authorize him to command the forces raised in the other Colonies, of which a considerable number arrived at Cambridge previous to the battle of Bunker Hill.

A continental Congress assembled at Philadelphia in Sept., 1774, and on the 15th day of June, 1775, made choice, unanimously, of GEORGE WASHINGTON, to command all the Continental Forces raised or to be raised for the defence of American Liberty — and on the 17th, Artemas Ward, Esquire, was chosen first Maj. General, and Charles Lee, Esquire, second Maj. General.

In April, 1776, Gen. Ward represented to Congress the feeble state of his health and his unwillingness to continue in office and receive its emoluments, while prevented by ill health from rendering an equivalent in the service, and requested Congress to accept his resignation of the office of Maj. General. He continued in the service at the request of Gen. Washington and of the Continental Congress until the close of that year. In 1777 he was elected by the House of Reps. a member of the Executive Council of the State of Massachusetts, and by the Council, President of that Board; and in 1779, appointed a member of the Continental Congress, but prevented by ill health from taking a seat in that body.

After the adoption of the Federal Constitution, he was elected and re-elected a member of Congress.

A monument in the burying-ground at Shrewsbury erected to his memory has the following inscription, containing a condensed account of the principal stations in which he acted his part in an eventful period of our country's history:—

Major General Artemas Ward, son of Col. Nahum Ward,
H. U. 1748; 1762 a Justice, and 1776, Chief Justice of the
C. C. Pleas for the County of Worcester.
1758 a Major in the expedition against Canada.
1759 appointed Col.; 1766 his commission, as Col., revoked for his inflexible opposition to arbitrary power; whereupon he informed the Royal Governor that he had been twice honored.
1768 chosen one of the Executive Council and by the Royal Governor, and for the same reason, negatived and deprived of a seat at that Board.
1775 appointed to the command of the Army at Cambridge; and by the Continental Congress, first Maj. General in the Army of the Revolution.
1779 appointed a member of the Continental Congress and under the Federal Government, repeatedly elected a member.
16 years a Rep. from this town in the Legislature and in 1785
Speaker of the House of Representatives.
Firmness of mind and integrity of purpose were characteristic of his whole life — so that he was never swayed by the applause or censure of man, but ever acted under a deep sense of duty to his country and accountability to his God.
Long will his memory be precious among the friends of Liberty and Religion.

Extract from an obituary notice of the death of Col. Ward, published in the Columbian Centinel, Boston, Feb. 22, 1812: —

"In tracing the actions of the amiable patriot who has now closed his virtuous career, we behold him, at the commencement of hostilities in 1775, animating his fellow-countrymen by his example and his counsels — pourtraying the dangers that were about to assail them, and exhibiting the firmness with which such dangers should be met. He stood among the first to unsheath his sword, and defend the violated rights of his country. Distinguished by sentiments elevated and patriotic as these, he was selected as the Aid-de-Camp of the Commander in Chief. He afterwards received the appointment of Muster-master General, with the rank of Colonel. In 1780, this office was associated with that of Inspector General of Discipline. Col. Ward acquiesced with satisfaction in this arrangement, and received in a style, equally flattering to his character and his conduct, the approbation of Gen. Washington for the exemplary manner in which he had discharged the duties of his office. With dignity he retired from the army, possessed of the affection and esteem of his brother officers and soldiers. His talents adorned, and his virtues were the charm of private life. The influence of religion over his mind, was equally conspicuous, whether warmed by the genial sun of prosperity, or chilled by the winter blasts of adversity. In public transactions, Justice was the pole star, and truth the guide of his conduct.

Firmly relying on this foundation, he considered, that he rested on that which would never fail; with confidence he vested his fortune in evidences of property guaranteed by the public engagements of his country, and in titles to land granted and sanctioned by the faith of the Legislature of a State. To the last moment of his life, he advocated his claims with a clearness of conception, and a strength of argument, the truth of which must ever be felt and admired. Although he is dead, the principles of justice and good faith still live; and that the widow and the orphan may yet feel their influence, is the prayer of a sincere friend to suffering virtue." It may be here remarked, that ever since his death, justice has been in a profound sleep.

In the meantime, his wife, with her helpless children, unprotected and exposed to the ravages of the British soldiery and their savage allies, then within a few miles of her dwelling, fled to Bennington, forty miles through a wilderness, on foot, with her children, carrying the youngest in her arms, and without a man to protect them, or guide, except blazed trees, to direct her way. They reached there in safety, and quickly followed the battle at Bennington and the surrender of Burgoyne.

The family returned to Poultney, where he continued to reside until his death, Aug. 3, 1819. His wid., Lucy, d. at Poultney, Jan. 6, 1846, at the age of 98 years. The following is an extract from an obituary notice of him, published in a Vermont newspaper, a few days after his death: —

"Died, at his residence in Poultney, on the 3d inst., (Aug., 1819,) the Hon. William Ward, aged 76. He was one of the first settlers of the town, and during the Revolutionary war took an active and zealous part in his country's defence. He was a member of the Convention which framed the Constitution of the State. He was six years one of the Judges of the County Court, for the County of Rutland, and twenty-two years Judge of Probate, for the District of Fairhaven.

He served forty years as a Justice of the Peace, and represented the town in the State Legislature eighteen years. He made a public profession of religion more than fifty years, and served as a Deacon of a church nearly forty years. His health was always remarkably good — he was never confined to his bed an hour by sickness; never had a bone broken or dislocated — never took an emetic, nor a cathartic. He was never bled, nor did he ever lose a meal of victuals, 'till the Friday before his death."

"It ought to be remarked, that, as a neighbor, he was universally beloved; as a citizen, he was highly esteemed and respected; and, as a Christian, venerated. No one said ought against him; he always performed the various duties assigned him, whether public or private, civil or religious, with perfect fidelity and integrity." His chil. were,

The e final, has been in use for a long period. In the Arms of an ancient Pease family, a Dove, holding in her beak a pea-stalk, with blossoms and pods, as said by F. S. Pease, is significant of the origin of the name.

INDIVIDUAL AND FAMILY NAMES.

BY THE REV. WILLIAM COGSWELL, D.D.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

Imago animi, vultus; vitae, Nomen est. — Puteanus.

Individual Names, or Names of Individuals, were given for the distinction of persons, one from another, as Adam, Eve, Noah, Abraham, Sarah, Paul and John. Such names have always been in use, and, at the present day, are generally termed christian or baptismal names. They were adopted originally, to a great extent, from the consideration of their signification. As an illustration of this remark, we present the following names: — First, of men; namely, Adam — earthy, taken out of the earth; Abel — just; Alexander — helper of men; Andrew — manful; Benjamin — son of the right hand; Caleb — hearty; Chrysostom — golden mouth; Constantine — firm; Daniel — judgment of God; David — beloved; Edmund — happy; Edwin — happy victor; Edward — happy keeper; Ellis, (corruptly for Elias) — Lord God; Erasmus — amiable; Francis — free; Frederic — rich peace; Gabriel — man of God; George — husbandman; Godfrey — God's peace; Goodrich — rich in God; Hector — defender; Humphrey — house peace; Hierome — holy name; Isaac — laughter; Israel — prevailing in the Lord; John — gracious; Joseph — increase of the Lord; Leonard — lion-hearted; Luke — luminous; Matthew — reward; Moses — drawn forth; Nathaniel — the gift of God; Neale — blackish; Nicholas — conqueror; Oswald — Steward; Paul — wonderful; Phillippe — lover of horses; Robert — famous in counsel; Roger — quiet; Reuben — vision of the sun; Seaborn — born upon the sea; Sebastian — majestic; Sylvanus — woodman; Stephen — a crown; Theophilus — lover of God; Thomas — a twin; Vincent — victorious; William — a defence of many; Wilfred — much peace; Zachariah — the memory of the Lord: — Secondly, of women: namely, Abigail — the father's joy; Alice — noble; Adeline — descending from nobles; Barbara — strange; Catharine — chaste; Clara — bright; Dorcas — a roebuck; Eleanor — pitiful; Eve — giving life; Florence — flourishing; Joanna — grace of the Lord; Judith — praising; Lucia — lightsome; Mary — exalted; Margaret — precious; Priscilla — ancient; Rosamund — rose of the world; Susanna — lily; Sophia — wisdom; Theodosia — God's gift; Ursula — little bear. Thus, christian names were originally given as expressive of some circumstance of birth, personal quality possessed, good desired by parents, or some other reason. Much importance was attached to the name as indicating the fortune of the child. Hence the proverb, "Bonum nomen, bonum omen."

Family names were given for the purpose of particularizing families. They are a sort of hereditary distinction, and are called by the French and English, surnames, because added to christian or baptismal names. In the early state of society among the Jews, Egyptians, Persians, Greeks, Romans, Germans, Gauls, Britons, indeed among every nation, no individual had more than one name; but in a more advanced or refined period, an additional name was given, in order to mark the different families to which individuals belonged, as well as to distinguish members of the same family from each other. Among the Greeks a few families at Athens and Sparta had family names. When the league was established between the Romans and the Sabines, to confirm which it was covenanted that the Romans should add Sabine names to theirs, and that the Sabines should add Roman names to theirs. These were termed nomina Gentilitia, et cognomina, as their previous names were termed prænomina. Commonly among the Romans, each person had three names; namely, a proper name (prænomen, which distinguished the individual,) the name of the clan, (nomen,) and the family name, cognomen.) Sometimes also a surname was added, which was given on account of some distinguished exploit or remarkable event. The prænomen was placed first, and usually written with one or two letters; as M. for Marcus, Q. for Quintus, Cn. for Cneius. Then followed the nomen; as Fabius, Julius, (from the clan (gens,) Fabian, Julian.) Lastly came the cognomen; as Cicero, Scipio. In the name M. Tullius Cicero, M. is the prænomen, which distinguishes him from his brother Quintus; Tullius, the nomen, which distinguishes the clan, (gens;) and Cicero, the cognomen, which shows his family. An instance of a surname, (agnomen,) is Africanus, added to Scipio; as Publius Cornelius Scipio Africanus.

The Hebrews in their genealogies, instead of surnames, used the name of the father with Ben, which signifies son, as Melchi, Ben Addi; Addi, Ben Cosam; Cosam, Ben Elmadam; — that is, Melchi, son of Addi; Addi, son of Cosam; Cosam, son of Elmadam. A similar practice prevailed among our English ancestors, as Ceonred Ceolwalding, Ceolwald Cuthing, Cuth, Cuthwinning; — that is, Ceonred, son of Ceolwald, Ceolwald, son of Cuth, Cuth, son of Cuthwin, the termination or suffix, ing, meaning son or offspring. In the same sense, the Welsh Britons used Ap, (son,) as Ap Owen;

Owen, Ap Harry; Harry, Ap Rhese; — that is, son of Owen; Owen, son of Harry; Harry, son of Rhese. The same may be said with regard to the Scotch in the use of Mac, (son,) as Donald, Mac Wharter; Wharter, Mac Dowell; Dowell, Mac Clelland; — that is, Donald, son of Wharter; Wharter, son of Dowell; Dowell, son of Clelland. With the Irish, the expression for son is Oy or O'; as O'Neal; Neal, O'Riley; Riley, O'Brien; Brien, O'Connel; Connell, O'Harra; — that is, son of Neal; Neal, son of Riley; Riley, son of Brien; Brien, son of Connel; Connell, son of Hara. In like manner, the old Normans in their surnames used Fitz, a corruption for Fitz, (son,) as John, Fitz Robert; Robert, Fitz William; William, Fitz Hugh; Hugh, Fitz Gerald; Gerald, Fitz Herbert; Herbert, Fitz Roy.

Surnames began to be used by the French nation about the commencement of the eleventh century,* and by the English nation about the time of Willlam, the Conqueror, in 1066, when the Conquest was achieved, or, as some suppose, as early as Edward, the Confessor, who began his reign in 1041. It is certain that the occasional use of surnames in England dates beyond the ingress of the Normans. But before the Conquest it was usual for persons to subscribe to deeds and all legal instruments, with a cross and a single name, without a surname, in the following manner: + Ego Eadredus confirmani; + Ego Edmundus corroborani; + Ego Sigarius conclusi. In the authentic record of the Exchequer in England, called the Doomsday Book, surnames are first found in public records in established order. The Scotch date the use of surnames about the time the English do; but it is not certain that they are correct in doing it. In England these names were introduced gradually. They were first assumed by the people of the "better sort," generally, who took the names of their estates, and it was not until the reign of Edward II., (1307,) that they were "settled among the common people fully." In Germany and some kindred nations, family names were little used by the commoners before the fourteenth century. The most current opinion is, that surnames can scarcely be said to have been permanently settled before the era of the Reformation, in the sixteenth century.†

The origin of surnames is various. The greatest number, probably, are derived from towns, villages, seats or patrimonial possessions. The most ancient, says the learned Camden, are from places in Normandy, and countries adjoining it. All names having the French De, Du, Des, De la prefixed, or beginning or ending

* Ducange says the use of surnames in France began about the year 987, when the barons adopted the practice of designating themselves by their estates.

with Font, Fant, Beau, Saint, Mont, Bois, Aux, are of this description. The names of Warren, Mortimer, Percy, Devereaux, Harcourt, Tracy, Montfort, and Cayly are derived from places in Normandy. Indeed, there is scarcely a village in that country which has not given a name to some family in England. From places in France are derived the names of Courtney, Bollein, Paris, Corby, Bohun, Saint George, Saint Andrew, Cressy, Lyons, Loring,* and Beaumont. Nearly all the towns, villages and hamlets, also, in England and Scotland, have given names to families, as Murray, Clifford, Stafford, Gordon, Douglass, Heydon, Barkeley, Leigh, Hastings, Hamleton, Booths, Clinton, Cotton, Hume, Stanhope, Sydenham, Arlington, Whitney, Wentworth, Fanshaw, Carie, Hartshorne, Gifford, Bassett, Howard, Talbot, Lovell, Tirell, Blunt, and Bissett. Most of the families in Cornwall have names, a constituent part of which is contained in the following distich :

> "By Tre, Ros, Pol, Lan, Caer and Pen,†
> You may know the most Cornish men."

All names, which in England had Of set before them, which in Cheshire and the North was contracted into A, as Thomas, a Dutton, John a Standish, Adam a Kirby, or which in Latin had De prefixed, were derived from places. The same may be said, to a considerable extent, of those names which had Le before them. Under the head of local names may be placed also such as Hill, Wood, Field, Pool, Pond.

Next to local names or those derived from places, the most numerous are those derived from trades or professions, as Archer, Brewer, Brazier, Baker, Carpenter, Goldsmith, Cutter, Fisher, Taylor, Potter, Smith, Saddler, Painter, Webster, Wheeler, Wright, Wheelwright, Mason, Gardner, Turner.

Some names have been assumed from office, as Chamberlain, Cooke, Marshall, Sergeant, Foster, Fowler, Page, Butler, Clarke, Proctor, Abbot, Bishop, Priest, Dean.

Names have been taken from titles of honor, dignity, or estate, as King, Prince, Lord, Baron, Knight, Squire.

Names also have been derived from bodily or mental qualities, as Goodman, Wise, Proud, Strong, Armstrong, Long, Low, Short, Little.

Periods of life have given rise to names, as Old, Young, Child, Baby.

* The name of Loring, though not found in the Roll of Battel Abbey, by Fox, is found in Leland's copy of the Roll, to which Lower, in his Essays on English Surnames, says "The preference ought unquestionably to be conceded." The name Loring is derived from Lorraine, a province in France.

† These words signify in order a town, a heath, a pool, a church, a castle, a promontory.

Some names have been derived from parts of the body, as Head, Whitehead, Legge, Foot, Arm, Heart; and others from the color of complexion or dress, as White, Black, Brown, Green; and others again from fruits and flowers, as Pear, Peach, Lilly, Rose.

Many names are derived from beasts, as Lamb, Lyon, Bear, Buck, Fox, Wolf, Hog, Roe, Badger, Hind, Hare; others from birds, as Dove, Lark, Nightingale, Swallow, Peacock, Sparrow, Swan, Woodcock, Crow, Wren, Parrott; and others from fishes, as Pike, Crab, Bass, Salmon, Haddock.

A considerable number of surnames have originated from christian names, as Francis, Leonard, Herbert, Giles, Lewis, Humphrey, James, Jacob, Daniel, Thomas, Anthony, Alexander.

The names of Corbet, Goodwin, Goodrich, Fabyan, Hervey, Howard, Osburn, Payne, Searle, Star, Swain, Wade, Warner, Hamlin, Talbot, Wade, and Maynard were formerly christian names, and in use about the time of William the Conqueror.

Many surnames are formed by the addition of son to a christian name, as Williamson, Robertson, Richardson, Johnson.

Nicknames or nursenames have, in process of time, become family names: as Bill, or Billy, for William; Dick, or Dickey, for Richard.

We might proceed to give other specimens of the origin of names; but our limits will not permit us to enlarge. A sufficient number has been presented to show that it is almost indefinitely various. It is computed that there are between twenty and thirty thousand surnames in England alone. Their origin, too, is often curious. Persons fond of the study of individual or family nomenclature, will be entertained and instructed with the perusal of Camden's British Remains, Lower on English Surnames, Chambers' and Brande's Dictionaries, and the different Encyclopædias on this subject, to which we have been greatly indebted in preparing this piece.

[The forgoing article is from the second number of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, for 1848; a quarterly publication, commenced in 1847, and continued to be published, at Boston, in quarterly numbers, exceeding 200 pages each, by SAMUEL G. DRAKE, at $2 per annum, or $2.37 per vol., the four numbers, handsomely bound, — a work highly interesting, and abounding in matter "curious, useful and entertaining," and worthy the patronage of every one who has the least mental relish for genealogical and antiquarian lore.

ORIGIN OF THE NAMES OF THE DAYS OF THE WEEK, AND OF THE NAMES OF THE MONTHS.

SUNDAY, the first day of the week, now generally termed Sabbath day, was called Sun's day, being a day anciently dedicated to the Sun.

MONDAY, a compound word of Moon and day; a day formerly sacred to that planet.

TUESDAY, is from Tuesdaeg, the name of a deity, that presided over combats and litigation; hence Tuesday is Court day, assize day, the day for combat or commencing litigation.

WEDNESDAY, anciently Wodin's day, from Wodin, a deity among the northern nations of Europe.

THURSDAY, from Thor's day; the day consecrated to Thor, the god of thunder.

FRIDAY, from Friga's day; a day consecrated to Friga, the venus of the north.

SATURDAY, from Saturn's day; a day devoted to Saturn, one of the most ancient of the heathen gods; the reputed son of Cœlus and Terra, (Heaven and Earth,) and father of Jupiter.

Instead of these names, the early settlers of New England used the words, first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh, to denote the several successive days of the week, and the like words, up to the twelfth, to designate the several months in the year; but, when writing, they more frequently made use of Arabic numerals, from 1 to 12, to designate the months; "because they would avoid all memory of heathenish and Idol's names."

At the foundation of Rome, about 750 years before the Christian era, the year consisted of ten months, and of them March was accounted the first month in the year. Two others, January and February, were subsequently added by Numa Pompilius; whereby the year consisted of twelve months, January being the eleventh and February the twelfth and last month in the year; the length of which was established by Julius Caesar, who appointed it to consist of 365 days and 6 hours; which 6 hours made one day in four years; and that day every fourth year, added to the number of days in February, makes that year to consist of 366 days, and is called leap year, on account of its leaping forward one day.

He also placed January at the Winter solstice, followed by February; whereby January became the first month, March, the third, and December the twelfth and last month in the year. This is called the Julian Calender.

JANUARY is from the Latin, Januarius, so called from Janus, an ancient Italian King, who was deified after his death. A Temple, and in it a Statue, was erected in honor of him; the latter represented him with two faces, looking in opposite directions; upon the past and upon the future, January being the boundary month between successive years, the one face was towards the retiring, the other towards the coming year. Hence the expression "Janus-faced," now used as a term of reproach.

FEBRUARY is from the Latin, Februo, to purify by sacrifice, and thus signified the month of purification.

MARCH, from the Latin, Martius, Mars, the god of war.

APRIL, from the Latin, Aprilis, opening, open; because in this month all things are, as it were, opened and budded.

MAY, from the goddess Maia, wife of Jupiter and the mother of Mercury; to her sacrifices were offered on the first day of the month. At this late period flowers are sacrificed on that day, if not to her.

JUNE, from Juno, the queen of the goddesses, and patroness of marriage and wedded life.

JULY, from Julius, the surname of CAIUS CAESAR, the Dictator, who was born in this month. MARK ANTONY first gave this month the name of July; previously it was called Quintilis, signifying the fifth month in the year according to the old Roman calender.

AUGUST was so called in honor of the Emperor, OCTAVIUS AUGUSTUS, who entered upon his first consulate in this month; previous to which it was called Sextilis, six, the sixth month from March.

SEPTEMBER, from the Latin, septem, seven, the seventh month.

OCTOBER, from the Latin, octo, eight, the eighth month of the primitive Roman year.

NOVEMBER, from the Latin, novem, nine, the ninth month, and

DECEMBER also from the Latin, decem, ten, the tenth and last month in the year of the early Romans.]

OLD AND NEW STYLE.

Style, in Chronology, is the method of computing time according to the Julian and Gregorian calender. The former is called old, and the latter, new style.

The Julian calender, of which we have already spoken, was found to be erroneous, as it contained more than eleven minutes in a year too much. This excess amounted to ten days in 1582; in which year Pope Gregory XIII., corrected that calender, and, to bring the vernal equinox, which happened on the ninth of March in that year, to the twenty-first of that month in future years, and as it occurred in 325, directed that the year 1582 should consist of 365 days only, and that ten days be abated between the fourth and fifteenth of October in that year; and furthermore, to preserve future regularity in the seasons, he ordered that no year ending a century should be leap year, excepting each four hundredth year; whereby three days are abated in every four hundred years, three days being nearly equal to eleven minutes for every year in that period.

By each four hundredth year is meant the closing year of that number of centuries, that can be divided by 400 without a remainder. Such are leap years of 366 days; when there is a remainder, they are common years, or years of 365 days. Thus 1600, 2000, and 2400 are leap years while 1700, 1800, and 1900, are common years; and all other years in a century, which can be divided by 4 without a remainder, are also leap years, as 1804, 1808, 1812, &c.

This calender was soon adopted in most countries, but for a time rejected by our Protestant ancestors, on account of its pagan and popish origin.

At length, by an act of Parliament, in 1751, it was adopted in England, and thereby extended to her colonies.

That Act provided for regulating the commencement of the year, abated eleven days of September, 1751, the third to be accounted the fourteenth, and the year to commence on the first day of January, 1752.

The difference between old and new style, was, previous to 1700, ten days only; but as that year contained only 365 days, by the Gregorian calender, instead of 366, as by the Julian, it became, after 1700, eleven days, and another being lost by the omission of l ap year in 1800, the difference now is twelve days.

Previous to 1752, two methods of commencing the year prevailed in England; the Ecclesiastical, as also the Legal year commenced on the twenty-fifth of March, and the Historical year on the first of January.

This two-fold practice of beginning the year, led to double dating the year, between the first of January and the twenty-fifth of March; as, for instance, 10th of Feb., 1725–6. These figures denote, the 4 first the Ecclesiastical and Legal year, beginning in March, while the fifth, or suffix 6, denotes the Historical year.

These months were frequently written in Arabic numbers, instead of being expressed by their names, and preceded by the number of the days in the month. This practice ceased in 1752, when the year for all purposes was made to begin on the first day of January.
